Discussion

Talking Points:

Proactive Discussion - key points and facts to convey.

These are the topics and facts that we want to bring up when given the opportunity to make our case.

When to use talking points:

- When writing, calling or visiting with a Legislator or their office staff
- When educating local governing authorities
- When participating in an interview, panel or seminar
- When bringing up cannabis law reform in general

Talking Point Examples

- Annually, 72,000 Texans are arrested for simple possession at an estimated cost of $10,000 per arrest
 - During 2012, 90% of all burglaries, over half of all reported rapes, and a quarter of all murders went unsolved.
 - 40% of those arrests are for youth under the age of 21
 - The State of Texas spends about $8,500 to educate one child for one year, ranked 44th in the Nation
- 47% of the U.S. population lives in a jurisdiction with access to medical marijuana
 - 76% of Texans think seriously ill people should have the right to use marijuana for medical purposes
 - States with medical marijuana have seen prescription opioid overdose rates decrease by 25%

Discussion

Rebuttals:

Reactive discussion - responses to typical arguments and statements made.

These may not be points we bring up but we need to be prepared to address them.

When to use a rebuttal

When addressing an official or their office staff's question or concern

When in a formal debate

Rebuttal Examples

Didn't we just legalize medical marijuana?

- Only high CBD oil for people with intractable epilepsy
- The most effective drug for one person might not work at all for another
- Marijuana contains about 80 active cannabinoids (including CBD & THC) and many of them contribute to marijuana's therapeutic effects

What about the children?

- a record can seriously limit a youth's educational opportunities and scholarship/grants, access to employment, professional advancement, and options for housing
- Lowered rates of use in Colorado
- Drug dealers do not ID
- Many sick children's parents would like to use cannabis as a first line of defense

Before You Call

- Who is the legislator?
- How have they voted?
- What committees do they sit on?
- Which committees are important to us?
 - House: Criminal Jurisprudence, Public Health
 - Senate:
 - Criminal Justice
 - Health & Human Services

Before You Call

Look into the official you will be visiting

- review their biography
- review the types of bills they have authored or co-sponsored
- check out their social media

Use this knowledge to connect with officials and customize your talking points

What to Say When You Call

- Ask for the scheduler.
- Say you are a constituent who would like to meet the Rep./Sen. when they are in-district.
- Typically they will ask for the topic you are calling about or have you send an email.

What to Say When You Call

If you want to discuss medical marijuana or decriminalization / legalization of marijuana, say:

“I’ve been in the district for ___ years and have never met with Rep./Sen. _____. I’d like some time to speak briefly about health / criminal justice related issues and drop off some materials.”

What to Say When You Call

- It is not uncommon for the office staff to drop the ball. It's okay to be aggressive with a 2nd, 3rd, 4th call.
- You may have to schedule a couple weeks out.
- Other ways to get in touch with the legislator:
 - Sign up for their campaign email list
 - Sign up for the County GOP & Democratic email lists
 - "Like" them on Facebook / Twitter to catch their events

What to Expect in Your Meeting

- Expect 30-60 minutes.
- Introduce yourself and explain in a personal way why the issue is important to you.
- Ask how the legislator feels about it.
- Listen.
- Prepare questions to get the legislator talking rather than talking the whole time.
- Legislators want to know how this issue affects them – a.k.a. what it is we're asking them to do.

What to Expect in Your Meeting

- What is your “ask?”
- Make a note of any questions the legislator has so you can follow-up with an email.
- Look to creating a relationship rather than convincing them of your way in the course of one meeting.

Townhalls, Campaign Events

- Register and keep an eye on campaign events in the area
- Attend and introduce yourself to legislator
- Ask them a question either privately or publicly about marijuana policy...even if you have to stand around and wait for your turn.
- Many times there are other political people at the event. Go to enough events and you will remember people.

Building a Relationship

- Every state representative is running for office
- Campaign staff often double as office staff
- Volunteers are not easy to come by
- You can volunteer for campaign or party

Building a Relationship

Traditional means of winning an election:

- Phone banking (can sometimes do from home)
- Block walking
- Placing campaign signs
- GOTV
- Sign-waving on election day

Voting Matters!

In Fact.....

- You might even want to participate as a Republican or Democratic delegate.
- Requires a commitment to associating (to some degree) with the party
- You can be a delegate from the precinct convention level to the national convention level.

Platform Process

- One of the things you can affect as a delegate
- Platform is a presentation of the principles that define the political party. They are an amalgamation of resolutions sent up from the grassroots of the party and voted on by leadership in the party. (Platform Committees)
- Send resolutions from precinct convention to senate/county convention to state convention.
